An Appeal for Installation of TAGORE BUST in London

In 2011 we are celebrating the 150th Birth Anniversary of Rabindranath Tagore. To mark this momentous occasion we have undertaken a few ambitious projects, one of which is the installation of Tagore Bust in central London. The arduous task of finding a suitable site and obtaining permission for installation is behind us. We are truly on our way to realisation of our dream when the Vice Chancellor of the London University agrees to collaborate with us by kindly allocating a spot in Gordon Square with necessary approval from the Camden Council. The only serious hurdle that now remains between our dream and reality is money. The estimated cost is approx. £60,000. The date set to unveil the Bust is 6 May 2011. Within this short space of time we have to raise the required fund.

Please help us achieve this objective and donate generously to the cause. This will be your gift to the next generation, a legacy to remember Rabindranath Tagore, a great poet, a versatile genius and a great son of India.
